The BC Health and Wellness Youth Advisory Council (YAC) will play an important role in informing BC government decisions by raising the views of young people.

The YAC will meet virtually about 10 times per year over a 2-year period starting in January 2021 to discuss issues affecting youth health and wellness, with an initial focus on vaping and tobacco.

The YAC is seeking 12–15 members in Grades 8–11 from all across BC. Young people from diverse backgrounds, communities, and life experiences are encouraged to join.

Members will receive training and an honorarium of $15/hr to attend meetings.

The YAC is a project of the McCreary Centre Society and the BC Ministries of Health and Education.
